

FLETCHER STOPS
TAMPICO BATTLEAmerican Admiral Orders Mexicans to Cease Firing.

BACKS DEMAND WITH THREAT

British Ambassador at Mexico City Receives Dispatch From Admiral Craddock Saying American Naval Officer Threatened to Shell Federals and Rebels Unless His Order Was Obeyed.Mexico City, Dec. 13.—Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander of the American naval forces in Mexican waters, ordered the rebels and federals fighting at Tampico to cease firing.
He threatened to open up on them with the guns of the gunboat Wheeling if his order was not obeyed. Both sides complied with the order.This information is contained in a dispatch received by Sir Lionel Carden, the British ambassador, from Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock of the British cruiser Berwick, which is lying off Tampico.The federals hold the center of the town of Tampico and the water front.
Rear Admiral Fletcher has ordered foreigners to take refuge on board ships or to congregate on the water front where they will be under the protection of his guns.Rebels Outnumber Federals.
The fighting began two days ago.
Indications were it would continue at least another day. Two thousand federals were engaged and probably twice as many rebels.The rebels, who are in possession of the railroad yards and shops and large stores of material and equipment, have detached from their lines sufficient men to undertake repairing the railroad north and west from Tampico toward Victoria.Occasional shells fell in the heart of the city of Tampico and bullets were numerous enough to make advisable that all residents not engaged in the operations seek cover. For the most part the firing was limited to the artillery of the rebels and the guns of the Bravo.According to reports received here the rebels have not damaged any property, but the firing, especially that from the federal cannon, endangered the tanks and the refinery of the Waters-Pierce Oil company.

SUMNER GOES TO TAMPICO

dangered by fighting between the Mexican federals and rebels. The vessel will carry 10,000 rations, two medical officers and a hospital corps detachment.Secretary Garrison acted at the request of Secretary Bryan.

ISSUES A FORMAL APOLOGY

President of Cuba Regrets Detaining Three American Women.Havana, Dec. 13.—President Men-cal, through the state department, has given William E. Gonzales, the American minister, a full apology for indignities to three young American women who arrived here on the steamer Havana from New York Oct. 29. The young women, the Misses Annie V. Lally of Washington, D. C., Josephine Murphy of Washington, D. C., and Catherine Farrell of Brooklyn, had come to Cuba to visit Mrs. J.
Sanchez of this city.On the arrival of the Havana the police boarded the vessel and detained the women as the result of a claim by another woman passenger on the steamer that her diamond ring, which she had left in the lavatory, was missing. Despite their protests, the young women were searched. The ring was not found.

System by Which Minor Criminals

believe minor criminals sentenced to short terms have hired others to take their places in prison. An investigation was started when a pickpocket who had been started on his way to Blackwell's Island Dec. 1 was found walking about this city.It is said that many young men out of work during the winter are willing to sell their time as prison substitutes.

FREE SPEECH IS DENIED

President of the American Federation of Labor Says the Organization Is Growing Rapidly—Declares Sherman Statute Forbids Coalition and Assails Liberty.New York, Dec. 13.—Labor organizations are allowed to exist in the United States, yet the right of coalition, union and free speech is denied them under the Sherman anti-trust law, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted in an address at the fourteenth annual meeting of the National Civic Federation.Mr. Gompers cited a recent case in which a labor body was dissolved by the courts and other cases in which individuals have been indicted because they struck in sympathy with fellow strikers. He recalled the coal strike of 1902."The victory was dearly bought and the suffering was awful," he said, "but the movement was wonderful and wrought a great change in the economic, material, social and moral condition of the workers.""The working people in the anthracite and bituminous regions of Pennsylvania are now threatened with the loss and the liberty of their rights," he continued, "for the employers are attempting to take their rights from them."

Must Retain What They Won.

"It is the duty of the miners' union to see that the conditions they won remain unchanged and the employers should be compelled to maintain the conditions by the moral force of associated effort of workers."Mr. Gompers said it was "a shame" to think some of these miners could be indicted under the Sherman law "because they sympathized with their fellow tradesmen.""Do you see the position in which our movement is placed by this Sherman law?" he asked. "We can do nothing. In the past five years 250,- 000 more persons became affiliated with the American Federation of Labor than in the previous five years."But for all that there is not an organization in the United States that does not exist at the sufferance of our country or for political reasons. They exist at the permission of government. The right of coalition, of union, of free speech, however, is denied them under the Sherman law.
Their liberty has been assailed."

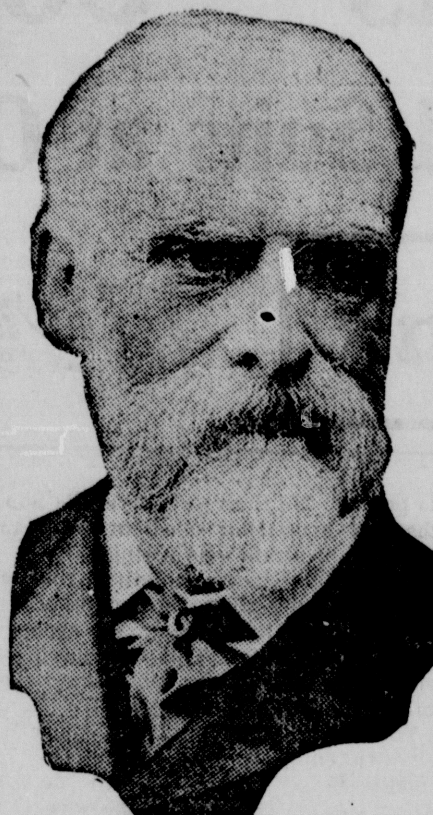

DR. VON KLEIN IS DEAD

Health Broken by Worry Over Charge Made Against Son.Chicago, Dec. 13.—Dr. Carl R. von Klein, widely known for his research work into the medical lore of the an-studies. His health broke last summer when his son, Edmund E. C. von Klein, of Minneapolis, was arrested on complaint of Miss Ethel Newcomb, who charged that the young man committed bigamy when he married her in Portland, Ore. and then deserted her taking with him her jewels valued at $3,500.The jury disagreed in the trial of the younger von Klein at Portland.

FLOOD RELIEF FUND SURPLUS

Governor of Indiana Has $59,194 to His Credit.Indianapolis, Dec. 13.—Governor Samuel M. Ralston has $59,194 on deposit to his credit in a local bank and is worried about what to do with the money. He can't spend it and as it would be a hopeless task to try to return it to the thousands of persons who contributed the amount he said he probably would ask the next legislature to aid him in finding a way to dispose of the money.The thousands of dollars are part of the fund contributed for the relief of the flood sufferers in Indiana during the spring months of this year.
The fund originally amounted to $141,- 088 and $59,194 was not used.WOMAN FOUND GUILTY killing her husband, John Johnson, was found guilty of manslaughter here.

Mrs. Johnson was carried in-the verdict without emotion.

The conviction carries with it a sentence of from one to ten years.

called the greatest secretary of state
the United States ever had by James Bryce at a dinner given the former British ambassador by the National Liberal club.The United States, Mr. Bryce continued, is undergoing an era of change. The minds of the people lems which they are seeking to solve with zeal and energy he never has seen equaled during the thirty-four

TO EXPEDITE BILLSWill Also Endeavor to Keep Down Appropriations.Washington, Dec. 13.—House leaders will confer in Speaker Clark's office with a view to keeping appropriation bills down to the lowest possible limit and expediting the reporting of these measures.The speaker called the conference in a letter addressed to the various committees authorized to present appropriations, including appropriations, postoffice, military and naval, rivers and harbors, agricultural, Indian and foreign affairs.He asked the chairman and ranking Democrat of each committee to meet Majority Leader Underwood and himself to discuss the general situation.Speaker Clark said that the purpose of the conference was to urge early reports on the appropriation bills so congress might get away from Washington some time next summer.
"Of course," he said, "we intend, if we can without doing injustice to any department or service of the government, to keep the appropriations within the estimated revenues and we think we can do it."The total departmental estimates now in for the appropriations for the next fiscal year aggregate $1,035,000, and the estimate of regular and permanent annual appropriations for the next year, as figured by the appropriations committee, on this basis is $1,108,681,777.These totals for 1915 overtop the estimates that were made for the current year by $3,474,813.

TO CURB TRUSTSSenator Nelson Proposes Amendment to Constitution.

EXTEND POWER OF CONGRESS

Would Overcome Greatest Existing Difficulty—Wilson and All Others in Dilemma Because No One Knows How Far Legislation Can Extend.
People Demand Quick Action.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 13.—[Special.]— Senator Nelson of Minnesota has offered the most sensible suggestion relative to trusts that has been proposed in congress. It is for a new amendment to the constitution which reads:The congress shall have power to define, prevent and suppress monopolies, conspiracies, combinations and agreements in restraint of trade.If the framers of the constitution could have foreseen the possibilities of monopolizing trade some such provision would have been made a part of the original document.At present the great difficulty with legislation relating to trusts is that no one can tell how far or by what authority congress may move. Much has been done under the interstate commerce clause of the constitution, and much more may be attempted, but good lawyers seem to be able to make trouble every time any law is enacted.

The President's Dilemma.

Although the trust problem has been before congress for months and was before the people a long time before Woodrow Wilson was a public character, the president was unable to deal with the great question when he delivered his annual message. The president found many suggested methods, but he found also that state jurisdiction and constitutional inhibition met him at every turn. That was why he devalued his recommendations on trusts.Of course the Nelson method, amending the constitution, will take quite a long time, but it will be a sure way of giving congress power to act.

Just So It's Done.

It is scarcely probable that the people care an iota whether legislation is accomplished by caucus method, by influence from the White House, by unanimous consent in the senate or gag rule in the house or by any other method, so long as it is the legislation which they want.Many hours were taken in the senate in discussing what was acknowledged to be a "wearing out process" in order to get the currency bill passed.
Senator Norris proposed a short cut by having a resolution adopted fixing a time for a vote, but the senators were horrified by that because it was a species of cloture. But, no matter how much wrangling there might be,
a majority can at some time secure action, and that is what satisfies the people.

Hobson's Hard Time.

Congressman Hobson is the real defender of a greater navy, a big army and adequate national defense, but he has a hard time when he takes up the subject in the house. All the peace advocates, all those who would disarm, all those who would use the expenditures for the army and navy for public buildings and other local improvements, are on Hobson's back, and he has to fight in every direction. A Hobson day is quite a field day, but he is always a small minority.

A Popular Girl.

The most popular young woman in official life is Miss Genevieve Clark, the speaker's daughter. Not even the White House girls seem to be as universally admired as Miss Clark. The matrons speak of her in the highest terms, which is quite a compliment.

Witnesses From the Past.

To clinch an argument many statesmen think it is only necessary to call a witness from the past. Thus Jefferson is called to prove every contention and is often found on both sides. The same is true with other prominent personages. Some one went back to 1848 and dug up a speech of Lincoln's to prove that congress and not the president should exercise power. And yet when Lincoln was president he seized and exercised more power than any other president who ever held the office. Every president is bound to exercise great power if he carries out his policies.

Murray Dissatisfied.

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma has not been satisfied with the administration's Mexican policy and has not hesitated to say so publicly. When the recent Paraguay bill was under discussion Murray remarked that he hoped it would not bring on a difficulty which would "make us occupy the same relation with those people as we now have with Mexico—have an obligation we cannot meet."

Franking Privilege Seems Safe.

Many postal reforms have been suggested, but one there is which does not meet any hearty response in congress—that is, to abolish the franking privilege. Congressmen do not propose to debar themselves from sending all kinds of documents, seeds, letters and other things through the mails. As congress enjoys the franking privilege, it seems absurd to expect that congress would abolish it.

direct primaries, Massachusetts bal-

PAID FOR GOING TO PRISON

System by Which Minor Criminals Employ Substitutes.New York, Dec. 13.—The police discovered a system whereby they believe minor criminals sentenced to
short terms have hired others to take their places in prison. An investigation was started when a pickpocket
who had been started on his way to Blackwell's island Dec. 1 was found
of work during the winter are willing to sell their time as prison substi-

James Bryce Says People Are Seeking to Solve Problems.London, Dec. 13.—Elihu Root was called the greatest secretary of state
the United States ever had by James Bryce at a dinner given by the former British ambassador by the National
Liberal club.The United States, Mr. Bryce continued, is undergoing an era of change. The minds of the people are full of political and social prob-
seen equaled during the thirty-four years he has known America.HOUSE LEADERS HOPE TO EXPEDITE BILLSWill Also Endeavor to Keep
Down Appropriations.Washington, Dec. 13.—House leaders will confer in Speaker Clark's office with a view to keeping appropri-
committees authorized to present appropriations, including appropriations,
foreign affairs.He asked the chairman and ranking Democrat of each committee to meet
self to discuss the general situation.
Speaker Clark said that the pur-
bills so congress might get away from Washington some time next summer."Of course," he said, "we intend, if
department or service of the govern-
in the estimated revenues and we think we can do it."The total departmental estimates
next fiscal year aggregate $1,035,000,
and the estimate of regular and
the next year, as figured by the ap-
is $1,108,681,777.These totals for 1915 overtop the
estimates that were made for the current year by $3,474,813.

TO CURB TRUSTSSenator Nelson Proposes Amendment to Constitution.

Would Overcome Greatest Existing
How Far Legislation Can Extend.
People Demand Quick Action.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 13.—[Special.]— Senator Nelson of Minnesota has offered the most sensible suggestion relative to trusts that has been proposed in congress. It is for a new amendment to the constitution which reads:The congress shall have power to define,
prevent and suppress monopolies, conspir-
acies, combinations and agreements in re-
could have foreseen the possibilities of monopolizing trade some such provision would have been made a part of the original document.At present the great difficulty with
legislation relating to trusts is that no
one can tell how far or by what authority congress may move. Much has been done under the interstate com-
much more may be attempted, but
trouble every time any law is enacted.The President's Dilemma.
Although the trust problem has been
before the people a long time before Woodrow Wilson was a public character, the president was unable to deal
livered his annual message. The president found many suggested methods,
but he found also that state jurisdiction and constitutional inhibition met
him at every turn. That was why he delayed his recommendations on trusts.Of course the Nelson method, amending the constitution, will take quite a long time, but it will be a sure way of giving congress power to act.Just So It's Done.
It is scarcely probable that the people care an iota whether legislation is
accomplished by caucus method, by
influence from the White House, by
method, so long as it is the legislation which they want.Many hours were taken in the senate in discussing what was acknowledged to be a "wearing out process" in order to get the currency bill passed.
Senator Norris proposed a short cut
by having a resolution adopted fixing
were horrified by that because it was
a species of cloture. But, no matter how much wrangling there might be,
a majority can at some time secure action, and that is what satisfies the people.Hobson's Hard Time.
Congressman Hobson is the real defender of a greater navy, a big army
subject in the house. All the peace
advocates, all those who would disarm,
all those who would use the expendi-
lic buildings and other local improvements, are on Hobson's back, and he has to fight in every direction. A Hob-
always a small minority.

A Popular Girl.

The most popular young woman in official life is Miss Genevieve Clark,
the speaker's daughter. Not even the White House girls seem to be as universally admired as Miss Clark. The
terms, which is quite a compliment.

Witnesses From the Past.

men think it is only necessary to call a witness from the past. Thus Jefferson is called to prove every contention
and is often found on both sides. The
same is true with other prominent per-
and dug up a speech of Lincoln's to prove that congress and not the president should exercise power. And yet
other president who ever held the of-
ercise great power if he carries out his
policies.

Murray Dissatisfied.

istration's Mexican policy and has not
hesitated to say so publicly. When the recent Paraguan bill was under discussion Murray remarked that he
hoped it would not bring on a difficul-
now have with Mexico—have an obli-

Franking Privilege Seems Safe.

Many postal reforms have been sug-
that is, to abolish the franking privilege. Congressmen do not propose to
congress enjoys the franking privilege, it seems absurd to expect that congress would abolish it.

Governor Glynn's bills and adjourned measures, all of which, except that relating to workmen's compensation, will become effective immediately.

The compensation bill will not take effect until Jan. 1.Only slight opposition was made in the assembly to the bills, the Republicans supporting most of the measures.The principal bills passed provide for compulsory workmen's compensation for all hazardous employments, direct primaries, Massachusetts ballot, direct nomination and election of United States senators, a constitutional convention and paying the expenses of the Sulzer impeachment trial.
For the latter $160,000 was appropriated.The legislature has been in session at least a part of every month this year, exceeding all previous records for length. Not a member, it was said, has been able to pay his ex-to borrow money to come here to vote.

port said that, while the measure would not put the army's aviation powers, it would enable the United States to keep abreast of the times in Republican Convention.

HAS REAPPORTIONMENT PLAN

Chairman Woods Calls Members Together to Take Some Action for Submission to the Republican National Committee, Which Will Meet in Washington Next Tuesday.Washington, Dec. 13.—The national Republican congressional committee went on record here as favoring a special national convention of the Republican party next year and endorsed three plans as suggestions for reapportionment of delegate representation to future conventions.It was resolved by the committee, called together by its chairman, Representative Woods of Iowa, that in its judgment:"A special national convention of the Republican party should be held as soon as practicable to take action on the apportionment of delegates to the national nominating conventions of the party; to the unit of representation; to the full recognition of the primary laws of various states on the election of delegates and members of the national committee and the time when the latter shall take office, and to such other matters as may seem desirable."The resolution will be submitted to the Republican national committee, which will meet here next Tuesday, with the plan suggested for reapportionment of the delegates to national conventions.The first suggestion of the congressional committee, which would make the total delegate representation 1,044 instead of 1,062, as at present, is as follows:"For each of such districts in which the vote cast for the Republican candidate for presidential electors in 1908 was not more than 40 per cent of the total vote cast for presidential electors in such district in such election, one delegate; for each such district in which such Republican vote was 40 per cent, but not more than 60 per cent, two delegates; for each of such districts in which such Republican vote was more than 60 per cent, three delegates.""In any state where a reapportionment act has not been passed to provide the full number of congressional districts such state shall be entitled to delegates-at-large for each representative-at-large in congress at the above ratio, comparing the full vote of the state with the total Republican vote in the state. In Arizona and New Mexico the apportionment shall be based on the vote for delegates in congress."

MILK COMPANY ESCAPES FINE

But Supreme Court Holds President Must Pay Penalty.St. Paul, Dec. 13.—Domestic corporations in Minnesota are exempt from all fines following convictions on charges of conspiring to restrain trade, according to a decision handed down by the supreme court in the case of the Minneapolis Milk company, convicted Feb. 19 in the Hennepin county district court. Members of a corporation may be fined, but the forfeiture of the charter, which carries with it no confiscation of property, is the only penalty that can be imposed on a convicted corporation.A. R. Ruhnke, president of the company, and the corporation were tried at the same time and convicted.
Judge Charles S. Jolley imposed a fine of $3,000 upon Mr. Ruhnke and $3,500 upon the corporation.The decision sustains the lower court as to penalty imposed on Mr.
Ruhnke, but reverses the lower court on the corporation fine.

INCOME TAXES TO INCREASE

$4,091,090.30 in income taxes this year.
$601,739.14 more than last year. The the increase is due largely to greater prosperity. In six counties more than $1,000,000 will be collected in income taxes—Milwaukee, Douglas, Dane, Kenosha, Racine and Winne-bag.The entire expense of collecting this tax will be about $100,000. The state receives 10 per cent of the money collected, the county 20 per cent and the locality where the tax is returnable 70 per cent.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Washington, D.
C., November 7.
Pastor Russell
gave two addresses here today. We report one, from the text, "He [Satan] was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth. . . . When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and the father of it."—John 8:44.
The Pastor began his sermon by drawing a comparison between conditions in Heaven and those on earth.
Then he asked, Why should God have done so differently with two creatures—men and angels—His own children?
The Bible, said he, explains the reason for this difference of treatment.
The human family became sinners, through the disobedience of Father Adam. The entire Adamic race is impaired mentally, morally and physically, as a result of the curse, or penalty of sin—"Dying, thou shalt die."

Satan the Murderer.
Then the Pastor demonstrated from Scripture that Satan was the murderer of our race, as Jesus declared. Satan persuaded Mother Eve that God, who cannot lie, had lied to her; that the declaration, "Dying, thou shalt die," was an untruth; that man could not die; that he had some inherent life which even God could not destroy. He further persuaded her that God had a selfish motive in telling the lie; that God wished to keep them in ignorance.
Then Satan declared that by obeying him they would become like God.
The death sentence was carried out.
Our first parents were driven from Eden, that they might no longer have access to the life-sustaining fruits, that they might come under the penalty.
There never was a sentence, "Thou shalt live in torment and be tortured by devils. All such misrepresentations are slanders intended to dishonor God and to turn men's hearts from Him.

Jesus the Life-Giver.
The murdered race now numbers about twenty thousand million souls.
Has God no gracious provision for them? asked the speaker. He then answered his own question by numerous Scriptures assuring us that God so loved the world as not to wish them to perish. He therefore gave His Son, that all exercising obedient faith in Him might attain everlasting life.

The Pastor next explained that a savior is a life-giver. Adam failed to give his race life. What we need is what he lost—life. This God has provided through Jesus. Salvation is a raising from death to life—resurrection.
The resurrection will not be merely an awakening from the tomb to conditions prevailing before de-Adam's dying began when he was fected, and included all the procewhich finally led him to the tomb. resurrection will be his raising a to what he lost through sin—to was redeemed at Calvary. This inciple holds with all his children.
This Resurrection will include all mankind, with two exceptions. The first will be those who refuse to cooperate with God in loving righteousness and hating iniquity. The other will be the Church of this Gospel Age —saints of all nations and denominations. These will share in the First Resurrection.

Satan the Incurable.
Then Pastor Russell carefully traced Satan's career of enmity toward God and righteousness for the past six thousand years, as recorded in Scripture. The fact that the Almighty has permitted Satan to remain at large and to some extent practise evil assures us that Divine Wisdom foresees some good result therefrom. In the sight of the holy angels, Satan's vicious, scheming, lying, murderous spirit is fully manifest. Soon all mankind, now subject to his deceptions, will be fully informed respecting them.
Unable to seduce our Redeemer to disloyalty to God, Satan sought to put Him to ignominious death, only to find that he had fulfilled the Scriptures.
Later, in persecuting the Church and introducing damnable heresies, through seducing spirits inculcating "doctrines of demons," he has sought to mislead all respecting the Divine character.
A time has been fixed for this great murderer's execution. But first he must witness the undoing of his work—the honor assigned Jesus, who humbled Himself to become man's Redeemer.
Satan will be bound during the thousand years of Messiah's Reign. At the end of that period he will be loosed, to test mankind, then perfect in the flesh.
This test will demonstrate who will be worthy of the gift of life everlasting.

Tit For Tat.
"We thought we'd rather move than clean house."
"An original idea."
"Not so original. It had also occurred to the people who vacated the abode we leased."—Exchange.

pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

Brainerd Opera House Filled to Capacity to Hear Collins and Gaylord Debate

Prof. W. C. Cobb Presided—John Taylor and Al Weidemann were the Time Keepers

The Collins-Gaylord debate on "Socialism" attracted a large audience to the opera house last night. Every seat was taken and people stood about and even sat in the aisles and many were turned away, unable to gain admittance. Of all the debates ever given in Brainerd, this one attracted the most notice.

At the time Peter Collins lectured on "The Philosophy of Socialism" at Gardner auditorium, T. E. Latimer asked to debate with him and Mr. Collins said the subject should be, "Resolved that Peter Collins tells an Untruth when He Says Socialism is Opposed to Religion and the Labor Movement."

Prof. W. C. Cobb was the chairman and addressed the audience at the beginning of the debate and stated that on Friday when the joint committee including the two speakers met to make final arrangements, it was agreed that the subject be "For and Against Socialism" and Mr. Collins requested that the announcement be made to the audience that this debate was arranged by the local of the socialist party at Brainerd and not by T. E. Latimer, of Minneapolis. No decision by judges was contemplated by either party at any time. (The time keepers selected were John Taylor and Al Weidemann. The discussion was in quiet, respectful language and lasted over three hours. The audience did not interrupt at any point.

W. E. Gaylord, of Milwaukee, Wis., who is a state senator from that district, represented the socialist side and in his opening address of 45 minutes sketched in broad outlines the aims and foundation of socialism. Today, said Mr. Gaylord, socialism has 10,000,000 votes, 500 representatives in national parliaments and is the party against which all other parties are combining. Socialism was a world movement. You cannot sneer at it or call it a figment of the brain, said the speaker. It was a living, a vital issue. He explained what was meant by the materialistic interpretation of history. All society was governed by the production and the distribution of products. Tell me the kind of food you eat or the tools you use and I can tell your status of life, said the speaker. Production and the exchange of products was the basis of economic history. The working class of today was entirely different from that of a hundred years ago. Those who owned capital and the machines were the rulers. They told the workers when to work, how to work, their hours, wages, and other conditions. Labor was endeavoring to gain its rights through cooperative stores, the labor press and through the political movement known as socialism. It was reaching out for the levers which controlled its life and that was no petty job. Peter Collins mentioned his having debated with Gaylord at Fond du Lac, Wis., on February 25. Mr. Collins said the working class movement was not socialistic. The basic doctrine of socialism was the materialistic conception of history. The working man was religious and loved God. Mr. Collins claimed socialism had no room for religion. He said the tools of production did not determine the religion of the user of tools. Socialism, pretending to be a movement of the workingmen, did not come from the workingmen and he mentioned many names of prominent socialists who, he said, were not workingmen. Socialism was not a scheme for the improvement of society, it was an evolutionary movement denying every right except which existed on an economic basis. The coming conflict was between the labor movement and socialism, it was not between socialism and capital. Socialism was absolutely antagonistic to the labor union movement. It stood opposed to social reform, which is for the betterment of present conditions. There was no such thing as inherent hatred, or class hatred, except what was fomented at the soap box of the socialist party. Socialism was a destructive and not a constructive movement. He read a severe indictment of socialism; that it would destroy the trade unions; it encouraged strike-breaking; it stood opposed to collective bargaining; it encouraged disloyalty of trade unionists to their unions; it had its paid representatives in the trade unions working to disrupt the unions; it advocates conflict to make socialists; it was anti-religious.

Mr. Gaylord said socialists were not non-partisans. Government ownership was not socialism and would not be so when it existed in charge of bloated bond holders. In reply to Mr. Collins he stated that Bismarck had granted reforms in Germany while he had the socialists in jail and it was done to head off the socialist movement. Bismarck had to grant these concessions and then let the socialists out of jail. He took exception to Mr. Collins' remark that politics was the science of government. Property, said Mr. Gaylord, was the main spring. All law revolved about the ownership, bequeathing and handling of property. "Give me the key to the bread basket, the pantry and the clothes closet and I care not what king sits on a throne," said the speaker. Socialism was against a state religion. The ten commandments were still doing service, but their interpretation was different when applied to a worker and again when applied to a financier. Mr. Gaylord said he was no workingman but he had something in common with a workingman. He had four children, a small salary and paid no income tax.

Mr. Collins read quotations in which he asserted that socialism was the enemy of the trades unions. Berger had said the American Federation of Labor was a delusion and a snare. He had instances of where the alleged Milwaukee had broken up labor unions. In congress Berger had voted to include under the trust designation labor unions and farmers' organizations. This point later was not denied by Mr. Gaylord. Mr. Collins put Mr. Gaylord in the capitalist class because of his assertion that Gaylord was interested in a cooperative business in Milwaukee which was operating on a hard business basis. The socialist Bedel, was an organizer of scab labor. Collins took exception to the assertion that any minister had said "The King can do No Wrong." He said socialism was a scientific fraud. The McNamara were despicable criminals and not socialistic. (Continued on page 4)

Machinists to Play Boilermakers Baseball Team at Koering Grounds This Afternoon

LATEST IN BOWLING GAME

South Sides are Victors Over Independents—Crosby Basket Ball Team Triumphant

At a time of the year when the stove league is in session and baseball has been relegated to the garrets of one's memory, Brainerd hops into the lime light with a baseball game this 13th day of December Anno Domini 1913 and staged at the Koering grounds. The thermometer is up in the summer altitude at 60 or more above. A warm breeze is toying with the dust of the pavements. There is no snow on the ground.

Frank E. Little, president of the machinists union, will lead his cohorts against the boilermakers marshaled in battle array under Tom Templeton. The battery for the boilermakers is Roderick and Leonard. At this writing it is not known who will pitch for the machinists. They may trot out a dark horse battery which may shoot rivet holes into the boilermakers.

The grand stand is warm and C. W. Keoring was heard to say that no fan would get cold feet sitting there. Maybe Leslie Joe Bullet Bush will umpire the game. You may talk about pansies and lilacs blooming this winter, of unfrozen lakes and rivers, of the absence of snow, of other midwinter peculiarities, but the rest of Minnesota will have to go some to beat Brainerd's record of shirt sleeve baseball played this winter.

The Brainerd Y. M. C. A. basketball team was defeated by Crosby last night, the score being 34 to 25.

The South Side bowling team defeated the Independents at the Coffrain & Cook alleys. The bowling alley was crowded with spectators. These two teams are among the best in the city. A picked team will be selected to defend Brainerd against the onslaughts of Little Falls' picked bowlers in a series of games to be played. Fred Cook has also games scheduled with St. Cloud, Staples and Crosby. The Brunswick-Balke-Collendar alleys at Coffrain & Cook's are giving the best of satisfaction and winning the encomiums of all players. The score for the South Side-Independent game is:

South Sides
Sasser	158	201	140
O'Brien	122	148	190
Roderick	137	125	164
Murphy	139	202	146
Turcotte	181	147	107
	737	818	747
Independents
Cook	177	182	187
Quinn	127	123	106

"I will confess to you," she said, "that I am older than I look. I will be thirty-one my next birthday."
"Really," he replied. "Hardly any one would guess that you were more than twenty-nine."
"That's the last time," she said when he had departed. "that I'll ever try to be nice to a brute."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Notes of the Game

The scores were comparatively small with the enthusiasm and interest displayed and it put one in mind of a miniature world's series in excitement.

"Hank" Mills, with his ever congenial countenance officiated on the foul line and just escaped with his scalp.

Mose DeRoche was very much in evidence, rooting for his side of town. His "down south brogue was heard all over the house.

Sasser, the big South Side bowler, is some roller and bids fair to make the Brainerd city bowling team.

Ralph Quinn brought his goat with him all right, but somebody got it right after the game started.

Al Victor was off form and so was Clark Henry. These fellows always bowl well and it was a mystery to Cook why they didn't do better.

Ed Murphy certainly hit the pins in the second game and rolled steadily throughout.

Capt. Turcotte of the South Siders rolled steadily enough and should also make the city team without much trouble.

Bud Roderick was off color and couldn't get his snake ball working just right. He will make a better bowler than he does a catcher and he's some catcher at that.

Giles O'Brien wasn't there either, when it came to getting big scores, but he said "Iskhebbible" as they won three anyway.

Hank Olson, for the Independents, rolled consistently throughout and it wasn't his fault his bunch lost. Hank is going to make a crab of a bowler himself.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Donald Simmons and Clifford O'Connor Arrested for Being Drunk and Plead Guilty

Donald Simmons and Clifford O'Connor, minors, were arrested for being drunk and plead guilty in municipal court. They were fined $10 each by Judge J. H. Warner. Sentence was suspended 30 days and they are to report once a week to the chief of police and if at the end of the month's probation they have observed the injunction of the court, they will be released from probation. In the meantime they are not to leave the city without the permission of the judge, they are to refrain from drinking and frequenting drinking places and Chief Quinn was instructed to give notice to all saloons not to sell them any liquor.

F. B. Peck pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined 5 or 5 days.

Con Allen, accused of giving a check without funds in the bank, demanded an examination when he was arraigned. His case was continued to Wednesday, December 17 at 10 o'clock in the morning. His bail was fixed at $500, and he was ordered committed to the county jail in default of such bail.

Seyvert Helgson, a drunk, drew a $5 fine or 5 days in the county jail. Frank Maxfield, also drunk, drew the same kind of a sentence.

T. N. Burrell, of Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, writes the Brainerd Dispatch as follows:

"I am sending you a clipping from the Honolulu Star Bulletin which I think goes to show that Brainerd and Minnesota are known in distant places. You may copy the clipping if you desire. I believe it may go to show some of the readers of your paper of some of the men who were in Brainerd years ago." The clipping states:

"This is indeed a small world," said J. D. Proud, an old magnate of Coalinga, Cal., this morning as he sat on the lanai of the Royal Hawaiian hotel sorting some photographs which he had taken on the Big Island. This is Mr. Proud's first visit to the Hawaiian Islands and he considers it an extremely lucky one from the fact that, had he not come here, he would not have met an old friend with whom he used to work back in Minnesota 30 years ago. George N. Day of Hilo, manager of the drygoods department of E. N. Holmes, is the friend, and Mr. Proud was inclined to tell the interesting story of how their acquaintance was renewed.

"After my arrival here last Tuesday," he began, "I took a trip to Hilo. While I was returning, I got acquainted with a man on the steamer, and although his face seemed familiar, I could not place him. Well, we got to talking on matters of general interest, and the conversation drifted to fishing. I was speaking of Minnesota—and you know that Minnesota is the greatest country in the world for fishing—and happened to mention Gull Lake. My companion became interested at once and asked me if I was acquainted with that country. I told him that I had lived there for five and a half years. Lodges formed the next topic and it soon cropped out that we were both members of Aurora Lodge 100, Masonic. We talked a long time, and then I happened to mention a certain store at Brainerd, Minnesota, where I had worked for a time, saying that I knew practically everybody in that place.

"It seemed that he had worked in that town himself, and in that very store, and then I told him my name, 'Johnny Proud?' he asked. And then I recognized him. We had worked in that store together for a long time. I left there in 1885 and remember now that he had gone into business there. He does not look the same now, for he is bigger, and, of course, older. But it certainly seemed good to see him again after 30 years. Yes, this is indeed a small world." And Mr. Proud, having told his story, went back to sorting his photographs.

The Collins-Gaylord debate on "Socialism" attracted a large audience to the opera house last night. Every seat was taken and people stood about and even sat in the aisles and many were turned away, unable to gain admittance. Of all the debates ever given in Brainerd, this one attracted the most notice.

At the time Peter Collins lectured on "The Philosophy of Socialism" at Gardner auditorium, T. E. Latimer asked to debate with him and Mr. Collins said the subject should be, "Resolved that Peter Collins tells an Untruth when He Says Socialism is Opposed to Religion and the Labor Movement."

Prof. W. C. Cobb was the chairman and addressed the audience at the beginning of the debate and stated that on Friday when the joint committee including the two speakers met to make final arrangements, it was agreed that the subject be "For and Against Socialism" and Mr. Collins requested that the announcement be made to the audience that this debate was arranged by the local branch of the socialist party at Brainerd and not by T. E. Latimer, of Minneapolis.

No decision by judges was contemplated by either party at any time. (The time keepers selected were John Taylor and Al Weidemann. The discussion was in quiet, respectful language and lasted over three hours. The audience did not interrupt at any point.)

W. E. Gaylord, of Milwaukee, Wis., who is a state senator from that district, represented the socialist side and in his opening address of 45 minutes sketched in broad outlines the aims and foundation of socialism. Today, said Mr. Gaylord, socialism has 10,000,000 votes, 500 representatives in national parliaments and is the party against which all other parties are combining. Socialism was a world movement. You cannot sneer at it or call it a figment of the brain, said the speaker. It was a living, a vital issue. He explained what was meant by the materialistic interpretation of history. All society was governed by the production and the distribution of products. Tell me the kind of food you eat or the tools you use and I can tell your status of life, said the speaker. Production and the exchange of products was the basis of economic history. The working class of today was entirely different from that of a hundred years ago. Those who owned capital and the machines were the rulers. They told the workers when to work, how to work, their hours, wages, and other conditions. Labor was endeavoring to gain its rights through cooperative stores, the labor press and through the political movement known as socialism. It was reaching out for the levers which controlled its life and that was no petty job.

Peter Collins mentioned his having debated with Gaylord at Fond du Lac, Wis., on February 25. Mr. Collins said the working class movement was not socialist. The basic doctrine of socialism was the materialistic conception of history. The working man was religious and loved God. Mr. Collins claimed socialism had no room for religion. He said the tools of production did not determine the religion of the user of tools. Socialism, pretending to be a movement of the workingmen, did not come from the workingmen and he mentioned many names of prominent socialists who, he said, were not workingmen. Socialism was not a scheme for the improvement of society, it was an evolutionary movement denying every thing except which existed on an economic basis. The coming conflict was between the labor movement and socialism, it was not between socialism and capital. Socialism was absolutely antagonistic to the labor union movement. It stood opposed to social reform, which is for the betterment of present conditions. There was no such thing as inherent hatred, or class hatred, except what was fomented at the soap box of the socialist party. Socialism was a destructive and not a constructive movement. He read a severe indictment of socialism; that it would destroy the trade unions; it encouraged strike-breaking; it stood opposed to collective bargaining; it encouraged disloyalty of trade unionists to their unions; it had its paid representatives in the trade unions working to disrupt the unions; it advocates conflict to make socialists; it was anti-religious.

Mr. Gaylord said socialists were not non-partisans. Government ownership was not socialism and would not be so when it existed in charge of bloated bond holders. In reply to Mr. Collins he stated that Bismarck had granted reforms in Germany while he had the socialists in jail and it was done to head off the socialist movement. Bismarck had to grant these concessions and then let the socialists out of jail. He took exception to Mr. Collins' remark that politics was the science of government. Property, said Mr. Gaylord, was the main spring. All law revolved about the ownership, bequeathing and handling of property. "Give me the key to the bread basket, the pantry and the clothes closet and I care not what king sits on a throne," said the speaker. Socialism was against a state religion. The ten commandments were still doing service, but their interpretation was different when applied to a worker and again when applied to a financier. Mr. Gaylord said he was no workingman but he had something in common with a workingman. He had four children, a small salary and paid no income tax.

Mr. Collins read from quotations in which he asserted that socialism was the enemy of the trades unions. Berger had said the American Federation of Labor was a delusion and a snare. He had instances of where the Milwaukee had broken up labor unions. In congress Berger had voted to include under the trust designation labor unions and farmers' organizations. no union ever justified their outrages. Mr. Gaylord took exception to the I. W. W. statement made. He said the organization was an outgrowth of conditions, just like the McNamara's. In referring to Milwaukee he said the non-partisans now in power were using the garbage wagons of the former socialist administration and also the brooms, and the oil that had been stored in the city by the socialists. He did not believe in the fragmentary method of Mr. Collins' attack. Not until the socialist party succeeds in gaining benefits will it be entirely successful, said the speaker. All the eyes of the world were on it as a great working class movement. The speaker said he hoped its differences and issues would be discussed on the common ground of a public forum like the present one and that no bloody revolution would ensue. Mr. Collins, in his closing reply, said Marx claimed that violence was needed to establish the rule of labor. Mr. Gaylord interrupted Mr. Collins. Socialism, said Mr. Collins, was leading many into its folds who had no conception of what it was or stood for. In a brilliant peroration he pleaded for citizens to stand by the flag of this country, to allow no red symbol to usurp its place, that citizens should work for the common good and band themselves together for social reform. The flag which was carried from Bunker Hill through every phase of national life was unsullied and the statement he read from a socialist editorial, that the socialists were about to take the mud off the flag, was an outrage to every American. "Let us live and work and strive for our country," said the speaker as he closed amid an outburst of applause and cheers.

CATARRH OF THE PHARYNX.

Clearing out your throat every day, all day. That is what you have been doing for months. Possibly years. A little mucus covers the pharynx.

If you were to go to a doctor he would tell you that you have pharyngitis. If you were to look into your own throat you would find just back of the soft palate a red, lumpy, granular appearance of the back part of the throat. Pharyngitis the doctors call it.

Perhaps he would call it, follicular pharyngitis. It causes you constant annoyance. You are always making slight disturbances when seated in an audience. Can't hold your throat still. Stringy mucus bothers you. Worse in the morning.

A-hem! A-hem! A-hem! That is the way you are going nearly all day. Sometimes in the night when you wake up. You ought to gargle your throat with salt water every morning. Cold salt water. That clears out the throat perfectly and makes it ready for treatment.

Peruna is the treatment. Begin with a teaspoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Try it for a week. You will be convinced. Of course, Peruna will not entirely relieve you in a week. That is too much to expect of any remedy. But it will benefit you so much you will be convinced. Yes, it will. It has done this many times.

Follicular pharyngitis. Big words. Almost as bad as the disease. But if you take Peruna for one month regularly, you may forget that you ever had such a disease. Then you will have a perfect right to forget the big words too.

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

Startling Exclusive Improvements Mark the 1914 Harley-Davidson

Step-Starter—Selective Two-Speed—Double Brake Control—Double Control of Free Wheel—Folding Foot Boards—Full-Floting Seat, and Other Improvements.

Step-Starter Starts Machine With Rider in the Saddle and Both Wheels on the Ground

THE 1914 Harley-Davidson is marked for the innovations it presents. Innovations, but not experiments, for every feature has stood the test of months and months of hard road service. The Step-Starter—an exclusive feature—furnishes the only practical method of starting a motorcycle. If the rider accidentally stalls the motor it is no longer necessary to hold up traffic on a crowded street, and a level place in the road, get off in the mud, and set the machine on the stand to start it. A downward push on either pedal and the motor again begins to throb.

Selective Type of Two-Speed

The Harley-Davidson selective type of two-speed has proven itself to be exceptionally reliable, extremely simple and wonderfully efficient. It is housed inside the rear hub, thus avoiding dust, dirt or damage. Its speeds are selective and the rider can shift from low to high or high to low or to neutral at any time without the machine being standing still or in motion.

Double Brake Control

The new Harley-Davidson Band Brake may be operated by a foot lever on the right foot board or by back pedaling on either pedal.

Double Control of Free Wheel

Free Wheel Control is operated by hand or foot. With his hands on the handle-bars the rider has complete control of the 1914 Harley-Davidson.

OLD FOLKS FIND NEW REMEDY RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Relieves Backache and Bladder Disorders After a Few Doses are Taken

Sleep disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life.

The new discovery, Hindipo, relieves all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly.

It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of the system.

It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, Hindipo is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work immediately and more than a few doses are seldom required to relieve even the most chronic, obstinate case.

Speaking of Cattle.
Twenty years ago, at a dinner given by the Illinois Breeders' association at the old Lehigh hotel, Emory Starr, celebrated lawyer and wit, when called on to speak said:

"I have listened to the speeches on the fine points of different breeds of cattle the Alderney, Shorthorn, Jersey, Holland, Guernsey and other breeds—but I can assure you, gentlemen, as a railroad attorney, that the most valuable animal in the world is the product of an ordinary cow crossed by a locomotive."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Too Inquisitive.
Small Fred—Say, papa, what does cleave mean? Papa—It means to unite or adhere. Small Fred—Does a man unite a stick of wood when he cleaves it? Papa—Oh, then it means to separate. Small Fred—Does a man separate from his wife when he cleaves to her? Papa—Run along to bed, son.—Chicago News.

THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

Still one thing remains to furnish the house beautiful, without which guests and books and flowers only emphasize the fact that the house is not a home. I mean the warm light in the rooms that comes from kind eyes, from quick, unconscious smiles, from gentleness in tones, from habits of thoughtfulness for one another—all that happy illumination which in the inside of a house corresponds to morning sunlight outside falling on quiet dewy fields.—William Channing Gannett.

CATARRH OF THE PHARYNX.

Clearing out your throat every day, all day. That is what you have been doing for months. Possibly years. A little mucus covers the pharynx. If you were to go to a doctor he would tell you that you have pharyngitis. If you were to look into your own throat you would find just back of the soft palate a red, lumpy, granular appearance of the back part of the throat. Pharyngitis the doctors call it.

Perhaps he would call it, follicular pharyngitis. It causes you constant annoyance. You are always making slight disturbances when seated in an audience. Can't hold your throat still. Stringy mucus bothers you. Worse in the morning.

A-hem! A-hem! A-hem! That is the way you are going nearly all day. Sometimes in the night when you wake up. You ought to gargle your throat with salt water every morning. Cold salt water. That clears out the throat perfectly and makes it ready for treatment.

Peruna is the treatment. Begin with a teaspoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Try it for a week. You will be convinced. Of course, Peruna will not entirely relieve you in a week. That is too much to expect of any remedy. But it will benefit you so much you will be convinced. Yes, it will. It has done this many times.

Follicular pharyngitis. Big words. Almost as bad as the disease. But if you take Peruna for one month regularly, you may forget that you ever had such a disease. Then you will have a perfect right to forget the big words too.

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

Step-Starter—Selective Two-Speed—Double Brake Control—Double Control of Free Wheel—Folding Foot Boards—Ful-Floting Seat, and Other Improvements.

THE 1914 Harley-Davidson is marked for the innovations it presents. Innovations, but not experiments, for every feature has stood the test of months and months of hard road service. The Step-Starter—an exclusive feature—furnishes the only practical method of starting a motorcycle. If the rider accidentally stalls the motor it is no longer necessary to hold up traffic on a crowded street, and a level place in the road, get off in the mud, and set the machine on the stand to start it. A downward push on either pedal and the motor again begins to throb.

Selective Type of Two-Speed

The Harley-Davidson selective type of two-speed has proven itself to be exceptionally reliable, extremely simple and wonderfully efficient. Its housing inside the rear hub, thus avoiding dust, dirt or damage. Its speeds are selective and the rider can shift from low to high or high to low or to neutral at any time whether the machine is standing still or in motion.

The new Harley-Davidson Band Brake may be operated by a foot lever on the right foot board or by back pedaling on either pedal.

Free Wheel Control is operated by hand or foot. With his hands on the handle-bars the rider has complete control of the 1914 Harley-Davidson.
